Integrated Impedance Selector

To help installation we at Cerwin-Vega Mobile designed a simple but effective single terminal Dual Voice coil setup. Simple pull out the terminal rotate it to the impedance desired. The impedance above the terminal is the impedance of the driver now, with only one set of speaker wires going to it. No complicated wiring anymore!!!

* The sub shown is wired into a 1 ohm load (1Ω)

CAUTION
(The use of a sub-sonic filter set at a minimum of 30Hz is recommended on all vented enclosures.)

MINIMUM RMS POWER (50W BLACK AREA) RECOMMENDED RMS POWER (100W GREEN AREA) MAXIMUM RMS POWER (250W RED AREA)

This lower amount of power will increase the longevity of the woofer, but will decrease the amount of output volume. This is the optimum amount of power to provide the perfect balance output volume and woofer longevity. This is the maximum amount of power the woofer is designed to operate safely under. Only a moderate volume increase is gained (<1.7dB) at this higher power level. Operating beyond this power level will void your warranty.
